

ice house

Originally called the 'Iceland Cottage' the Ice House is a place steeped in history. Strategically positioned on the Moy estuary where tons of wild salmon were preserved here under ice before being shipped to the markets of Dublin and Liverpool. Today it stands built anew in an altogether different kind of cool.

Today, contemporary chic meets classic elegance. Funky furnishings, eclectic styling and stunning architectural design are woven into a vibrant mix. Together they form the perfect accent to the amazing views that stretch across the River Moy to the woodlands beyond. With great service, fantastic food, fine wines, clever cocktails and a hotel spa guaranteed to soothe, make the Ice House your escape to the extraordinary.

“...the very definition of a hip luxury retreat, a perfect getaway from the stresses of modern life...”
